Proponents Cut Fund Demand To $15,000,000

SACRAMENTO, April 30.—(U.P.)—A salt water barrier across the Carquinez straits, to provide one of the largest reservoirs of fresh water in the United States and benefit the state as far south as Los Angeles, was included in proposals of the legislative water commission here tonight.

The gigantic project contemplated for the San Francisco bay region was accepted by Senator Ralph Swing, of San Bernardino as an amendment to his measure which was drawn up from the Water Commission's program.

Compromise Made

Swing reached a compromise with Senator Will Sharkey of Martinez, chief proponent of the project, before agreeing to make his bill cover a four point program which is expected to require $130,000,000.

The entire measure as it is likely to appear before the legislature is as follows:

Construction of the Kennett dam to cost approximately $70,000,000.

Building of a dam at the head of the San Joaquin valley, and a pumping plant system for the valley, for which expenditures of $24,000,000 have been proposed, and an additional $6,000,000 for a diversion canal in Kern county, is considered likely.

A food control system in the Santa Ana region to cost $15,000,000.

Salt Water Barrier

The Salt Water Barrier which will require $40,500,000 of which the state will be requested to furnish only $15,000,000.

Sharkey at first demanded that the state appropriate $50,000,000 for his project, but agreed tonight to cut this figure to $15,000,000.

He explained that $15,000,000 is expected from the federal government, another $15,000,000 should be raised from communities on the eastern shore of the San Francisco bay, which would be benefited most through new industries that would be attracted by construction of the barrier.

Legislators Meet

Swing and Sharkey met after the committee on constitutional amendment and voted that the first three points of the water commission's program be voted out of committee and had voiced approval of the salt water barrier. However the committee requested that the two legislators get together so that Swing might voluntarily incorporate the proposal in his measure.

The program as it now stands is almost identical with the original draft of the commission. The idea of a salt water barrier was dropped several months ago after demands for $50,000,000 had been made.

Several minor changes to the entire program are expected before it is presented to the lawmakers for vote, but this is expected to require only a short time.

5 CONVICTS FACE NOOSE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—UP—Execution of five convicts who were responsible for the deaths of 13 persons because they incited fellow-prisoners in an attempt to escape from Folsom state prison on Thanksgiving Day, 1927, was ordered by the state supreme court here today.

Appeals of the men were denied, the court ruling adversely on every plea they had made to escape hanging. A sixth convict who was sentenced with the five, was sentenced to a separate appeal and a similar decision from the tribunal is expected in his case.

Numerous barriers have been placed before state officers through activities of the six prisoners and murderers. The state militia had to be called on emergency duty when the prospect that all inmates of Folsom prison (Continued on Page 5)

BLAST THREAT FAILS IN BANK THEFT ATTEMPT

LOS ANGELES, April 30.—(U.P.)—Two armed bandits who held up a girl teller in the Los Nietos bank at Downey escaped with $6,500 today, but a robber who threatened to blow up another bank fled penniless when the manager coolly refused to be frightened.

The two bandits who staged the holdup at Downey drew up to the bank in an automobile chauffeur by a beautiful blond woman. The men entered the bank and forced Miss Ruth Langley, who was alone, to open the vault.

After obtaining $6500 in cash, they attempted to imprison Miss Langley and a male customer, who had arrived during the robbery, in the vault, but the door lock refused to work. They fled in the automobile.

A man entered the Hollywood branch of the Citizens' National Trust and Savings bank and sat down at the desk of Manager R. A. Britt, who was alone. He opened a hand bag, pointed to a bottle with a muttered "nitro glycerine" and handed Britt a note demanding $10,000. Britt answered "You'll get no money here" and reached for a telephone. The bandit fled.

Three of four bank robberies here in two days have been successful and have netted bandits $17,500.

POWER PRESS OWNERSHIP PROBED

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(U.P.)—Revelation before the Federal Trade commission that the International Paper and Power company had acquired recently upward of $10,000,000 in interest in 11 newspapers in eight cities and interest in two other newspapers has turned congressional attention again toward so-called "power trust" activities.

The disclosure was made today by A. R. Graussein, president of the company, who said further that his concern now is negotiating for still another newspaper.

The corporation's wide interest in newspapers was revealed when the commission opened an investigation today into its acquisition of stock in the Boston Herald and Traveler, disclosed recently.

Further Airing

Senator Norris, representative, Neb., author of the resolution which prompted the trade commission's original power investigation, and who requested further investigation into the Herald and Traveler deal, expressed amusement today when informed of the much wider newspaper interests of the paper and power company. The whole matter is certain to be aired further in Congress.

"These disclosures," he said, "constitute another startling piece of evidence, mightily important in itself but still much more important when it is considered that it is only one step in the gigantic move on the part of the power trust to control the schools, colleges, churches, commercial and civic organizations, women's organizations and the broadening of the country. It is a gigantic (Continued on Page 5)

Movie Operator Freed Of Charge

MARTINEZ, April 29.—Frank DeManty, former projectionist at the State theater, was today freed by a jury in the court of Justice of the Peace Frank Glass on a charge of malicious mischief, following the trial, a second charge of petty theft was dismissed.

DeManty was charged by Lee Nally, manager of the theater, with removing lenses of a motion picture projection machine and charging wires leading into the booth. The lenses were returned after the theater had been closed for one night.

The defense argued that since the lenses were returned undamaged the elements of malicious mischief were lacking.

DeManty, according to Nally, mischievously damaged the projection machine following a dispute over wages, when "talkie" were introduced into the Martinez theater. T. D. Johnson was attorney for the defendant and Deputy District Attorney R. L. Buyer handled the prosecution.

A smoker, minus an ashtray, ed cigarettes out of an open window in the hotel.

One of the lighted cigarettes landed upon the shingle roof of the box home and in a few seconds a fire started.

Engines No. 2 and No. 3 and Truck No. 1 responded to the alarm and extinguished the blaze. Damage is estimated at about $15, Barry reported.

Barry reported that some residents of the Hotel Carquinez which is adjacent to the box home, "contained" himself during the afternoon by snapping hair-combs.

Building Thief Gets Suit, Clock, Shoes

Richmond's Building Burglar now has an alarm clock that will summon him to his work if any, a new pair of shoes and a Sunday suit, as the result of his activities at the Richmond Hotel.

The burglar found a clock ticking terribly alongside of the bed, after annexing the time-piece he decided he might just as well take a look around the building.

Ten minutes later he left the room with the clock, a new pair of shoes and a brand new suit, according to police reports.

Richmond's Building Bigger, Better Homes

Richmond's Building Bigger and better homes. This was indicated yesterday when A. J. Harvey, city building inspector, prepared his report for building here during the month of April.

Although only nine homes were built here during the month they cost $10,000 as compared with 15 homes built during the same month last year costing $7,000.

The total building for the month which ended yesterday was $147,875 as compared with $147,785 for the same month last year.

Two business buildings, one of them the Kress Store at Ninth and Macdonald avenue costing $2,000 last night, the total for the month of April was $1,400,000.

The total for the month of April of this year was divided as follows: Homes 40,100; garages, woodsheds, etc. $2,400 and alterations $6,370.

An increase in building, as seen for the next few months, with several large apartment houses under consideration, plans of which have already been submitted to the City Building Inspector's office. The improvements are for the three cottages formerly on San Dial court which have been moved to make way for the new hospital now under construction here. The three permits were for $350 each.

Wife Torch Murder Admitted By mate

NEW YORK, April 29.—(U.P.)—A painful effort by a young married couple to forget their quarrels and become reconciled on the night of their first wedding anniversary was disclosed today as the story behind the "torch murder" of Mrs. Dorothy Peacock.

Less than three days after the discovery of the girl's charred body in a remote wooded knoll of Westchester county, Earl Francis Peacock, 21 year old radio repair man, confessed today that he had killed his wife after a futile attempt to end a 3-month estrangement.

"Well, it looks like the same old dump."

That led to bitter words and then a noisy, violent quarrel. Sooth they were scuffling. Then, Peacock said in his confession, his 20-year old wife fell limply as he struck her on the head with a revolver and strangled her. He carried her body to his car outside, wrapped the head in a towel so blood would not stain the cushions and drove until he found the lonely wooded place between Scarsdale and Arden, where he laid the body on a small clump of underbrush and hurriedly drove back to town.

There it lay until last Saturday morning, Peacock said, when he returned with two milk bottles containing kerosene, poured it over the clothing and set fire to the body. The flames had died down and only the pyre of underbrush remained smoldering when a few hours later, a youth strolled upon the scene, took one glance and fled, horrified.

PROGRESS OF EDUCATION

When the craftsman becomes dissatisfied with his own handicraft, it is time a change were wrought. That is the situation in which the nation now finds its educators and the educational system of their own making. Education in the United States has no more severe critics than the university and college professors and school teachers.

The American Philosophical Society recently asked for expression of opinion from prominent educators on the present state of education. They were instantly forthcoming, but were far from favorable to the system prevailing in the public schools and colleges.

That methods of mass production applied to education are producing men and women who are uniformly mediocre seems to be the consensus of the letters received by the society. One educator asked a complete revision of our system of education from the elementary school to the university. Another said the nation's slogan is "education without effort, information painlessly imparted."

Is not this situation full of promise for a better system in the immediate future? General dissatisfaction is a symptom of healthy growth, particularly in the field of education. Every progressive step has been born of discontent with that which existed.

Educators tell the public that the United States has outgrown its system of education. That the old system served its purpose admirably, but sentiment should not fasten upon the nation an antiquated and retarding institution. That America is advancing intellectually and her system of education must keep pace with this advance.

REACTIONS TO THE LAW

While inquiring into the crime problem, the commission which President Hoover will appoint should try to discover whether a good deal of the disapproval of the populace is not with the law officers rather than with the law.

Lack of a settled policy is hurting the administration of all laws and especially the prohibition laws. Judge Neterer, who won considerable fame by the extreme lightness of his liquor law sentences in Prescott, Arizona, fined a woman five cents because she was the mother of five children, and a district attorney in Wisconsin defies the attorney general in Washington and declares that all violations so far as he is concerned will come under the violent Jones law. Here are two extremes. The public, looking them over, wonders what in the name of common sense a law means, anyhow, if such different interpretations can be placed on its letter and spirit by two supposedly eminent public officials.

Proponents of the more drastic penalties of the Jones law uphold it as a means of more rigid enforcement. Enemies declare that it was placed on the books to act as an emetic and sicken the extreme dregs with the enforcement. Judges, prosecutors and sheriffs wonder how they can possibly secure convictions of known violators under a "five and ten" statute, when they find jurors hating to convict under less severe enactments.

Somebody sent a bomb to Governor Roosevelt of New York. And the surprising thing is that it didn't bear a Chicago postmark.

Nowadays when you get Mexico City on the radio you can't tell whether the interference is due to static or machine guns.

Nine parts of righteousness consist of an intimate relationship between one's nose and the grindstone.

The honeymoon draws toward a close when the young couple come back to the neighborhood where their relatives live.

Chinese Will Publish Famous Native Classic

PEKING April 30.—UP—Manchurian officials headed by the "Young General" Chang Hsueh-liang, announce that they are financing the publication of one of the largest and most famous books in the world. The book in question is the Ssu Ku Chuan Shu or Chinese Literary encyclopedia, a compilation of Chinese classics literature from the beginning of written history down to the Emperor Chien Lung.

This monumental work, which was compiled by order of Chien Lung, with the aid of thousands of scholars, exists in only four copies, one of which is in Peking and the other three in Mukden. All of course are hand written. The present publication will be the first in printed form.

Sir John Chancellor, recently appointed High Commissioner of Palestine, will now be called on to govern according to the tenets of Ottoman law. Previously, he has been governing Mauritius, which operates under the code Napoleon. Trinidad, where Spanish law holds sway, and Southern Rhodesia where Roman-Dutch law is the tribunal before which disputes are settled.

Sir John declares that one of the secrets of Britain's success in governing her empire is found in the practice of allowing each district to maintain its own code with the Privy Council as a final court in the background.

V. F. W. TO AID STAR MOTHERS' PILGRIMAGE

KANSAS CITY April 30.—In response to a request from the Secretary of War, James W. Good, the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States will cooperate with the government in sponsoring the pilgrimage of Gold Star mothers and widows of A. E. F. heroes to the American cemeteries in Europe, according to an announcement released today from national headquarters by Eugene P. Carver, Jr., Boston, Mass., national commander.

The pilgrimage, made possible by legislation vigorously advocated by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S., for the past three years, will provide mothers and widows who have not previously made a visit to the American cemeteries in France the burial places of loved ones.

Trip in 1930

The Secretary of War is authorized to arrange this pilgrimage, to be made at the expense of the government, and only those mothers and widows who have not previously made a visit to the American cemeteries in France are entitled to participate.

The bill, making the trip possible, set the dates for these trips commencing May 1, 1930, and ending October 31, 1933. Special passports will be issued without cost to alien mothers and widows so as not to interfere or jeopardize their readmission into the United States.

The pilgrimage will be made by the most direct route and for the shortest practicable time. In no case will the mothers or widows be permitted to remain in Europe for longer than two weeks from the time of debarkation to the time of re-embarkation.

V. F. W. Aids

At the present time there are 30,405 bodies buried in American cemeteries in Europe and 130 American soldiers buried in graves outside of these cemeteries.

Gold Star mothers and widows eligible for the pilgrimage are urged by Commander Carver to contact local posts of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. for assistance in making arrangements. Advice and aid will also be available through the office of Edwin S. Bettsheim, chairman of the national legislative committee of the V. F. W., Washington, D. C., who will cooperate with the Quartermaster General of the Army in assisting those eligible for the trip to Europe.

German Invents New Machine For Farmers

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(U.P.)—A new agricultural machine to dig beneath the topsoil and overlay it with rich subsoil has been invented by a German engineer, according to the Commerce department.

This machine, which resembles a large tractor, has a boring tube which is driver-operating in a forward diagonal direction to the required soil depth, it was explained.

This tube is revolved and the shovel-like blades attached to it are described as collecting the subsoil through slits in the tubes' surface, whereupon the subsoil is raised to the upper end of the tube, by means of a screw-gear, from which it is deposited behind the screen in a ridge.

The invention, it was said, will prove especially valuable to farmers whose land has become impoverished of necessary chemical elements which may be obtained from the subsoil.

The "Last Spike" will never be driven

—Southern Pacific still building with the West

The 60th anniversary of the driving of the Golden Spike, May 10, Southern Pacific's Golden Jubilee, finds this western railroad still building. Armed with crude tools, courage and vision, the early pioneer had hand-carved a way to the new West. With the vision of the pioneer, the West has carried on, and with it, step by step, Southern Pacific has built.

In the last five years Southern Pacific has built more new line than any other railroad in the United States.

In fifteen years Southern Pacific has built:

1,481 miles of new line at a cost of 88 million dollars. Of this, 40 million dollars has been spent in Northern California and Oregon.

Through the barrier of the mighty Cascades it has created a new north and south railway. It has double-tracked the OVERLAND ROUTE line over the Sierra. A new main line has been built through Arizona. From Wendell, California, to Lakeview, Oregon, has been broad-gauged.

Now Southern Pacific is completing a short line transcontinental railway through Southern Oregon and Northern California. The Cascade line of the SHASTA ROUTE has built 1,481 miles of new line at a cost of 88 million dollars. Of this, 40 million dollars has been spent in Northern California and Oregon.

From less than 700 miles in 1869 to 16,520 miles today is but one way of recording Southern Pacific's 60 years of work.

Behind this cold fact of miles built is the epic story of the development of the West. A story of progress indelibly written in the traditions of the West.

POWER PAPER OWNERSHIP PROBED

scheme such as stables the imagination.

"No Voice in Policy"

Graustein told the commission the acquisition of stock in the papers was purely to aid his newspaper business, which was languishing and that the company wanted no voice in newspaper policy.

The International Paper and Power company has a majority interest in the New England Power and Light company, which is the Canadian Hydro-Electric company, Ltd., Ottawa, and in addition has minority interest in a large number of small New England power companies which he did not name. The company derived 5 percent of its income in 1927 from power company operation; 25 percent from sale of newspaper, and 21 percent from miscellaneous sources, Graustein testified.

Newspapers Owned

The newspaper holdings are as follows:

Chicago Daily News, $350,000 in preferred and common stock.

Chicago Journal, $1,000,000 in debentures; $600,000 in preferred stock and 10,000 shares of common stock, whose value was not revealed.

Kaickerbocker Press and Albany Evening News, both of Albany, $450,000 in preferred and common stock.

Houston Herald and Traveler, 10-248 shares of common stock for which it paid $525 a share.

Chicago Journal-News, $300,000 in notes and common stock.

Hall and Lavarre, $855,000 in notes, secured by stock of the Augusta, Ga., Chronicle and Columbia Record and Spartanburg Herald Journal, in South Carolina.

Indirect Interest

The company, he said, has an indirect interest in the Greensboro, N. C., Record, and the Tampa, Fla., Tribune, through ownership of them by the Bryan-Thomson Newspapers, Inc., which also owns the Chicago Journal.

Graustein revealed also the International Paper and Power company offered approximately $28,000,000 for the Cleveland Plain Dealer, which was refused, and that it offered likewise to finance the purchase of the Progresso, a New York Italian daily but this deal failed.

He declined to reveal the name of the paper for which his company now is negotiating.

Heavy Holdings

Graustein did not disclose the value of the $10,000 shares of common stock of the Chicago Journal, which he said was "thrown in to sweeten the deal."

Outside of this, the total amount of holdings revealed is $10,789,700.

The International Paper and Power company is a subsidiary of the International Paper company, which Graustein said is twice the size of any other paper company in the world. The money to finance the purchases, he said, came from the International Paper company, although nominally from the subsidiary.

Chief Commission Counsel Robert E. Healy, who conducted the investigation today, said he would decide later whether newspaper owners and publishers would be called. The inquiry is closed for the time being.

would escape after the shooting appeared almost inevitable then three trials were necessary before the death sentences could be obtained.

When the verdict ordering the "hang" to the gallows was finally returned the court room was guarded by more men than at any previous trial in the history of the Pacific coast. Machine guns mounted at all entrances and more than a score of deputy sheriffs surrounded the judge's bench.

A motion picture was in progress when the condemned men, Anthony Brown, San Francisco, robber; Eugene Crosby, Oakland, bank robber; James H. Gregg, Fresno murderer; Walter Burke, Sacramento robber; Roy E. Stokes, Los Angeles burglar, and Albert M. Stewart, Los Angeles forger, started the Thanksgiving Day outbreak Stewart's appeal is still pending before the supreme court.

As the men rushed from the darkened theater of the penal institution they stabbed Ray Singleton, a guard, and shot George Baker, prison trustee. In the ensuing battle between guards and prisoners the major criminals of the state are sent to Folsom.

It others were killed, all but one being rioting convicts.

The six leaders surrendered after an all-night siege and on of them, Stewart, turned state's evidence in the hope of evading the maximum penalty. All were convicted at the first trial, which was for the murder of Singleton, but the jury recommended life imprisonment although such action was without precedent in the state.

Then the men were forced to answer for Baker's murder but the second trial was suddenly halted by the death of a juror and the third trial, from which they appealed, was concluded May 28, 1928.

U. C. FOOTBALL MATERIAL GOOD

BERKELEY, April 30.—Brick Mitchell, freshman football coach at the University of California, is already beginning to count his chickens for the 1929 grid season. Approximately a dozen outstanding high school football players entered the university at Christmas, and will be eligible for freshman competition this fall. Among Brick's proteges are Bill Barlow, former Berkeley high half who has been performing as a spring artist with the freshman track team this spring; Don Bell of Piedmont, a fast end; Frank Burger, fullback from San Mateo; Sam Gill, fourth member of the Gill tribe to enter the University since 1925, who was both a good student and a brainy quarterback at Santa Maria; Marcus Swinney of Fresno; Charles Spon of Del Monte and James Francis of San Jose.

Fishermen Ready For Big Season

Maps are being drawn upon the backs of old envelopes; mysterious mutterings are in the air. A group meets at the corner, heads come together. "No one knows the place—Sunday morning at daylight—don't forget."

No, it is not a preliminary to a Mexican revolution, in spite of the secrecy. It is merely followers of the great Isaac Walton preparing for the fishing season which starts this morning at daylight.

Hardware stores all over the state are crowded by fishermen. Hip boots are being tested; the merits of types of flies, spinners, lures and other bait are being discussed; new, shining rods are whirled through the air while the prospective limit getters grant their pleasure or displeasure as the case may be.

From the river regions comes the welcome news that streams are high and slightly discolored, giving promise of hundreds of speckled beauties swimming beneath the waves.

Local sporting stores report a heavy demand for fishing licenses and equipment in preparation for what is expected to be a record season.

In the meantime, Richmond fishermen will leave early this morning for the rivers and if all goes well, a number of families might be enjoying fresh, crisp fish, even if the day is Wednesday.

STAGES GREAT COMEBACK AT BALTIMORE

THE JOCKEY—OWNER IDEA CUTS DOWN THE OVERHEAD

When Earl Sande, probably America's premier jockey, quit the saddle a year ago, it was generally believed that his increasing weight would never permit him to essay a comeback as a jockey. When his plans to ride again were announced, it was whispered in some quarters that he was returning because of low finances. This wasn't exactly so; he returned because he loves the saddle and because he thinks he can boot one of his own horses home winner in the classic Preakness.

Recently at Havre de Grace the Earl made an imposing return to the track by bringing his young horse Hermitage home in front by four lengths. Sande announced after the race that Hermitage would be his candidate in the Preakness and later the Kentucky Derby. From the looks of the form displayed at Maryland, he looks like a good bet, especially with Sande riding him.

Elks Ball Club To Play Banks

The Richmond Elks ball club will meet the Sulphur Banks nine of Clear Lake Highlands there Sunday.

A number of Richmond rooters are expected to accompany the local team.

Prize Bass Caught In New Contest

Two prize striped bass, caught in the Sacramento river near Isleton beyond the Antioch bridge, were weighed and registered by Hank Boyer, manager of the bridge and found at the tollhouse, Sunday—the first striper to be entered in the contest inaugurated by Boyer with two 201 pass coupon books of the American Toll Bridge company as the prizes. The contest will be decided June 1.

Mrs. Rose M. Bateman of 1352 Marina avenue, Berkeley, presented one of the striper—a fish measuring 43 inches from nose to tail and tipping the scales at 2 1/2 pounds.

From the Presidio, San Francisco, came Sargeant George Bare, stak, to land a 25-pounder, measuring 40 inches from tip to tip. "The striper are running strong in the Sacramento and San Joaquin beyond Antioch," said Boyer yesterday. "Before June 1 I expect to weigh a 40-pounder or more."

Price Bails Out Jailed Gridder

HAYWARD, April 30.—UP.—One of the best prospects for the University of California football team this year was saved today when his coach appeared here with $100 bail to let him take college examinations.

Theodore Beckett, veteran tackle of the Bears, was ordered to appear before Judge J. W. Harter, Jr. here on a charge of throwing rocks at the home of George Koulouris, at five o'clock Monday morning. The engagement would have prevented Beckett from taking examinations and he would have been automatically disqualified from athletic competition next fall. The judge listened to the plea of Nibs Price, California coach, and released Beckett on $100 bail that Price furnished.

OAKS LOSE TO SEALS IN FIRST

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—(UP)—The Pacific Coast league was featured today by the victory of San Francisco's Seals over the Oakland club 2 to 1, which enabled the Seals to tie Oakland for third place of the circuit.

The San Francisco Missions, leaders of the league, also won today and increased their margin over the Los Angeles Angels because the latter cancelled their game with Sacramento out of respect for Charles Morison, one of the owners of the Senators, whose funeral services were held today.

The Missions trounced Portland 6 to 1, getting two hits for every one secured by the Beavers and showing superiority throughout.

A surprise was the 5 to 3 victory of Seattle over Hollywood, the Indians scoring two in the ninth inning to break a tie.

The Seals and Oakland each made eight hits. The Oaks scored their one run in the third and the Seals made two in the seventh.

California 8 To Leave For East June 5

BRIDGEVIEW, April 30.—Eligible workmen for University of California crews will be the order of things here, with the return of Coach E. E. Bright this week from Southern California, where he went for a short vacation following the Washington regatta April 23.

Bright said today that as soon as final examinations are over next month, regular daily workouts will be instituted. June 5 is the date he has set for departure to Poughkeepsie, where the Bears will defend their national rowing title June 25. Bright plans no stopovers and no races before the big regatta on the Hudson.

While not definitely decided, it is understood that the freshman eight will go East with the varsity. The California babes rank as the best first-year eight ever turned out here under the Bright-Nagler regime and it is believed they stand better than an even chance of winning the two mile

CITY BUILT IN 48 HOURS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 30.—(U.P.)—The inevitable mushroom town that springs up wherever a rich strike is made has made its appearance in Oklahoma city's new oil field.

Headline City, the boomer town, was started just 48 hours after the discovery gusher oil well blew in. A pencilled sign on a discarded board proclaimed the name.

CLASS STATIONS

Architects of the Richfield Oil company have just finished a Norman-English design for the ideal service stations which will be built in Washington and Oregon immediately as part of the Richfield highway-highway beacon chain.

'THIRD DEGREE' HIT IN NEW MEASURE

SACRAMENTO, April 30.—(U.P.)—Confession or admissions of prisoners cannot be admitted into evidence against the prisoner unless they are made in the presence of a magistrate, according to provisions of a bill by Senator J. W. McKinley of Los Angeles passed in the state legislature today.

The measure is aimed at third degree methods practiced by officers and was fought by police officers throughout California who claimed that it would seriously hamper their work. Magistrates would be required to advise prisoners of their rights in making statements and no part of a statement is admissible unless it is offered as a whole.

Lime or cement manufacturing or redcliff plants are placed within the scope of the act regulating hours of employment in mines under the provisions of a bill passed by the senate, introduced by Senator Daniel C. Murphy, San Francisco.

Employers are required to keep record of names and hours of work of employees and enforcement is placed upon the division of labor statistics.

City traffic regulations need not be published in a daily newspaper if three printed copies of the law are on file with the city clerk, according to a bill passed by the senate. Opposition to the bill has arisen on the grounds that all traffic regulations should be given complete publicity so that the public may be warned. Senator McKinley introduced the measure.

The hydraulic mining bill was defeated by the assembly. It would have given mining companies the right to resume hydraulic mining in California mountains. Strong opposition from farmers who declared that the debris from the mines would ruin their laes resulted in the defeat. The miners offered to build restraining dams but asked that the state bear a portion of the burden. Assemblyman J. L. Seawell of Roseville introduced the measure.

STARVING ARMY SURRENDERS AT BORDER

The rebels were a remnant of the scattered revolutionary army of southwestern Sonora. They marched on Mazatlan, Sinaloa, under Gen. Francisco Mazon, who later deserted, and then they prepared for a stand at Masiga, Sonora, under Gen. Fausto Topete.

When federal troops approached the army of 7000 scattered.

Without leader

The Yaquis were without a prominent leader late today.

General Topete had entered the United States last night after realizing the futility of remaining in Mexico.

Gen. Francisco Mazon, commander of Nogales, crossed the boundary today when the Indians got out of control.

General Borquez planned to surrender the garrison to federal armies advancing toward Nogales, but the Indians feared this would mean annihilation. They refused to consent and General Borquez left.

He entered the United States shortly after a federal air attack on Nogales, Sonora, in which a rebel bullet, landed on the American side of the line, and brought forth protests from United States army officers.

Bombs and machine gun fire from three federal planes took the lives of two persons and caused injuries to two small girls in Nogales, Sonora. Those killed by bombs were Mexicans, one a soldier and the other a civilian.

The girls were scorched on the legs by machine gun fire.

U. S. On Guard

American troops remained along the border tonight, helmeted and armed with machine guns. They had established machine gun nests on the roofs of some business buildings and had occupied homes along the boundary.

During the negotiations today the Yaquis assumed a hostile attitude, setting up machine guns within 15 yards of the American soldiers. It was feared that they might prefer American intervention to a battle with federal troops and start firing.

Col. G. L. Howell, who has been with the Mexican army for 20 years and was said to have received military training at Fort Reilly, Kas., represented the Yaquis in the conference on the boundary line. He aided them after General Borquez had left.

Escobar Missing

Col Howell conferred with Brig. Gen. Frank Cocheu and Col. A. M. Shipp, American officers, Col. A. J. McNab, military attaché at Dwight Morrow, ambassador to Mexico City, and Consul Vasquez.

Whereabouts of Gen. J. G. Escobar, supreme commander of the revolt, could not be learned tonight, although earlier unconfirmed reports said that he had gone to Colonia Morelos, 120 miles south of Agua Prieta, to lead rebel troops there against the federal force of Gen. Juan Almazan, entering Sonora from Chihuahua.

Another totally unconfirmed report said that Agua Prieta, Sonora, returned to federal hands today.

General Roberto Cruz and Manuel Aguirre, who were active in the march on Mazatlan, were reported hiding in the Yaqui hills, 300 miles south of Nogales, with a small band of followers.

PURCHASERS OF REAL ESTATE WARNED

Buyers of real estate have been urged to make a thorough investigation of the project before making a final decision, by J. Bradley Clayton, president of the California Real Estate association, according to word received here yesterday by William Metz, president of the Richmond Board of Realtors.

Importance of thoroughly checking property especially in the vicinity of the Colorado river, purported to be in the area which will be served by the Boulder Dam, was urged by Clayton.

The State association has joined in the nationwide protest against the flooding of such buyers through misrepresentation, backing up the warnings of the State Real Estate department.

A letter from Elwood Mead, United States Department of the Interior, Bureau of Reclamation, Washington, D. C., addressed to the commissioner which was published in California Real Estate magazine, said in part:

"The Boulder Canyon project act provides for the construction of a dam, power plant and an All-American canal to the Imperial and Coachella valleys in California; it does not define any irrigable areas or projects."

"Persons wishing to obtain land which will be irrigated in the lower Colorado river basin below Boulder Dam should bear in mind that all public lands susceptible of irrigation are now withdrawn from entry. They will not be open to settlement until the dam is built and water for irrigation is available and then under provisions of the Reclamation act, with preference right of entry to soldiers, sailors and marines. As the dam will take about seven years to build after construction starts, and present indications are that it will be a year or more before work is started, you can readily see that it will be a number of years before any lands are available to settlers."

MOTHER JONES LAUDS MILL STRIKERS

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(U.P.)—Nearly a century of alert observation has convinced Mother Jones, famous labor organizer of generations past, that humanity progresses.

She will celebrate a birthday here tomorrow—her 99th, she thinks, although there is some doubt about the exact numbers, sunning herself on a vine-covered veranda and ruminating over other May days when she exhorted labor to "walk out on the damned capitalist robbers."

She will gloat over the progress American laborers have made since she first became interested in their welfare many years ago when 15-hour days were not unheard of and 12-hour days were the rule even for children.

But she will still find much to criticize in the world reflected to her by labor periodicals. Conditions in the southern textile industry, for one.

"I don't think they've started much of a strike down there," she told the United Press today. "It isn't general enough. You have to get them all out to do any good. That's the way I went after things. I got them all to go and then we were in a position to do something."

In the next breath, however, Mother Jones praised the work of the young Communists who have started the textile strike and said she had faith in the abilities of American Federation of Labor leaders to get a foothold in the textile mills.
